

What went well?

What should we keep doing?
What should we celebrate?
Where did we make progress?

Development,social media websites and apps that can build upon themselves and grow with the times are the most successful.

keep promoting your social media accounts so that more and more people dicover them.

social media startedin the early 2000s my space was the frist social media site to reach a million monthly active users it achieved this milestone around 2004.

create a unique hashtagfor the day that encourages people to share their stories about social media or how they are celebrating the day

[Topic of the retrospective]

What went poorly?

The more time spent on social media can lead to cyberbullying,social anxiety,depression,and exposure to content that is not age appropriate.

Health issues due to social media lack of sleep is an issue i deal with and the side effects are not goods as they affects you, and your next days working,your body needs at-least 7-8 hours of sleep,so time your work and limit your online activities.

you won't feel inclined to validate your self -worth. yes , we live in the real world, but our self-worth is decided by the virtual.

The biggest frustration people have with social media is its ability to mask the reality. Everything looks hunky dory on social media, when it might not be the case in reality.

You can create a series highlighting your products or services,share industry news and trends,or provide tips and advice related to your niche.

Helps you build your personal brand,you network and connectin ways you can't in person.makes you "more visible" to hiring managers and recruiters that mine social media for prospective candidates - even when you aren't actively searching for a job.

Keep it conversational,use action words, be specific,focus on benefits,stay true to your brand.

I believe that social media acts as a double sword. if you take a wrong path on excessive use.

Social media platforms have varying advantages, but for any business, it is essential to use them for digital marketing, customer support, gathering data, and more.

It provides a gateway to an informal chat which could otherwise take weeks to arrange through an alternative route.

Being kinder to one another and taking our social media use seriously is the only way we will see fewer suicides and mental health issues arising from our modern digital society and online communities.

Be very specific about benefits of meeting conent from a learning perspective. post content frequently on various social media outlets as business.

What ideas do you have?

What ideas do you have for future work together?
Where do you see opportunities to improve?
What has untapped potential?

How should we take action?

What do you believe we should do next?
What specific things should we change?
What should extend beyond this meeting?

See an example